Statement Regulatory Reform: Implementation of the Regulatory Review Executive Order OIRA EPA whether had recommended those changes. For example, the file changes OIRA for one of the 16 rules for which we could not determine contained more than two dozen faxes, letters, memos, or other forms of communication between the EPA and OIRA officials. Many of those documents referred to changes that had been made to the rule, but it was not clear whether the changes had been suggested by OIRA. -suggested changes, OIRA For those 29 files that we determined resulted in we sometimes made those determinations by accumulating evidence from different sources or by reading notes written in the margins of documents. DOT EPA None of the files and only a few of the files contained a memo clearly documenting for the public that changes were made to the rules at. Therefore, we do not believe OIRA the suggestion or recommendation of that either or has closely adhered to the executive orders EPA DOT requirement to document changes made at the suggestion or OIRA recommendation of. As a result, the public would frequently find it difficult to determine what changes were made to regulatory actions OIRA because of. In 21 of the 32 rules for which evidence existed of OIRA-suggested changes, Most OIRA Changes the changes made to the rules appeared to be substantive in nature. For Appeared Substantive example: One file indicated that decided to make four significant changes EPA EPA to the rules compliance criteria because of...
